Henry Hagloch

There are those who make history and those who record it.

Henry Hagloch was born July 15, 1887 in Marysville, Missouri. When Henry was one year old, the family moved to Dover, Ohio. Henry started working in the newspaper field in 1910 and joined the staff of the Daily Reporter in 1913.

As his reputation as a local historian grew, Henry helped to organize the Dover Historical Society as a charter member and published his book, "History of Tuscarawas County", which is still widely use today when researching the county.

Henry retired from the Daily Reporter as an Editor in 1960.
